PROBABLY NOBODY WILL READ this cutline anyway, but it's a bird's eye view of sunbathers on the roof of the hall connecting Comstock and Wheeler dormitories. In case you haven't counted them, there are 11 in all. Two are in the background and difficult to see, unfortunately. Usually, the roof is quite private, because it can't be reached easily from below, and men aren't allowed on the floors above. This photograph was taken from the third floor balcony by MISTiC photographer LaVohn LePage.

Area High School! Seniors Visit MS Campus Thursday

High school seniors from the Fargo-Moorhead area will visit the MSTC campus this week and next, with Thursday, May 17, set as official high school senior day.

Actually, visits began last Friday, when students from Mapleton, N. D., and Felton arrived to tour the campus.

Planned for Thursday are a program in Weld hall, guided tours of the campus, and a luncheon in Comstock dining room for the visiting students.

The traditional afternoon program has been cancelled to allow visiting students to see Fargo and Moorhead.

RLC Initiates New Members

Eleven new members were initiated into Rho Lambda Chi at a meeting April 26. Initiated were Genevieve Collins, LaDonna Gordon, Eleanor Larson, Lois Lichtsinn, Shirley Neustel, Marilyn Pearson, Jeannette Reese, Beverly Rust, Mary Seifert, Pauline Svir, and Shirley Wollertson.

Officers of the group presided over the initiation ceremonies. The new members, with Mary Seifert as chairman, presented a program at the close of the meeting. Adella Sylvester was selected to head the nominating committee for next year's officers.

Dorm Women Sponsor Freshman Handbook

The Women's Dormitory association is sponsoring a booklet to be sent to all freshman girls before they enter college next fall. The booklet will contain facts about dormitory and college life.

Co-editors of the booklet are Mary McCann and LuBell Garber. Mary Lou Johnston will write the script for the booklet, and Helen Olson will be the artist.

GRADS TO MEET

Two and four year graduates will meet with the commencement committee tomorrow afternoon at four in 105-6 MacLean to complete arrangements for the commencement program.

High School Choir, Corporation Election Planned for Convo Tomorrow Morning

Students will "kill two birds with one stone" at convocation in Weld auditorium, Tomorrow at ten a. m.

By attending, they will not only hear the choir concert that has been scheduled, but they will have an opportunity to vote on the 1951-1952 Student Corporation board candidates.

The Enderlin High school a capella choir, under the direction of Mr. Olufson, will present a concert.

Approximately the first ten minutes of the convocation period will be given to the Student Corporation for voting and for a brief financial report.

A special meeting will be held later if enough students express a wish for a more thorough report.

Among the numbers that the choir plans are: "Thee God We Praise," Tkach; "Salvation is Created," Tscheknokoff; "Lullaby on Christmas Eve," Christiansen; "I hear Along Our Street," Mackinnon; and "Beautiful Savior," arr. Christiansen.

Corporation candidates from the student body for the 1951-1952 year are Hubert Anderson, William Mazurek, Dorothy Morrow, and Jo Radebough.

Faculty candidates are Dorothy Johnson, Lillian Langemo, Charles Thurber and Otto Ursin.

The Corporation board may institute some changes in the policy of having an annual meeting for the election of officers and the presentation of reports on finance and on the general status of the Corporation.

So many students are graduating in the spring that the desired active interest seems to be lacking.

One possibility being considered is to elect the officers in the spring—the same as the present policy—so that the Corporation would have officers during the summer and at the beginning of the following year, but to have the reports sometime in the fall. This would not only let the incoming freshmen know what the Student Corporation does, but would be a good time to stimulate their interest in the Corporation.

The choir, organized in 1930, was the first of its type in North Dakota. It is now composed of sixty-two voices chosen from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes.

This choir was invited to participate in the St. Olaf College choral spring festivals.

In 1942, at the Valley City spring festival, Daniel Preston commented, "The effect is very pleasing—the tempo is well set for the music and thought content of the selections. There is excellent use of interpretation."

Friday Deadline Set for '51 Homecoming Name Contest

Friday, May 18, is the deadline for entries in the 1951 Homecoming slogan contest. Slogans must be turned in to William Nelson, pep commissioner, by four p. m. Friday. A five dollar prize will be awarded for the winning slogan.

The Winona Warriors will be Homecoming foes for the Dragons. Short slogans are preferred, according to Commission president Arthur Nix, but there is no limit to the number of words.

Details on the contest will be posted on the bulletin board. The winner will be announced in next Tuesday's MISTiC.

Monday, May 21, at four p. m. is the deadline for organizations to apply for Homecoming activity concessions. Requests may be filed with Marilyn Berg, Commission secretary.

Next Monday night commissioners will choose a new method of selecting independent Homecoming queen candidates. They will also decide whether freshmen will wear beanies.

Commission Budget for Next Year Shows Drop

MSTC activities will have a total of $4,690 less on which to operate next year. Final figures released last week show a budget of $25,420 for the 1951-52 season, as compared to $30,110 for '50-'51.

Activity fees will furnish $18,570, with the remaining $6,850 to be supplied by incomes from various activities.

The activity fee total is based on an estimated enrollment of 506 students each regular quarter, 300 at summer school, and the purchase of activity cards by faculty members.

Activities which will furnish income include athletics — $3,000; MISTiC — $2,500; Dragon — $700; convocation — $400; music — $150, and forensics — $100.

Estimated expenditures from various departments include sinking fund — $1,212.10; convocation — $2,000; administration — $387; health — $3,106.70; deans — $96; Student Commission — $1,151;

Art — $337.60; athletics — $6,340; Dragon — $3,484; forensics — $680; MISTiC — $4,100; music — $2,080; pep — $96; women's athletic — $349.60.

Splash Club Sets Tunnel Dance for Tomorrow Night

A tunnel dance, sponsored by the Splash club, MS swimming organization will be held in the tunnel between MacLean hall and the physical education building tomorrow night.

The dance replaces the club's annual "Big Splash," cancelled this year because many of the members were enrolled in the instructors' swimming course, which interfered with practice.

The dance is scheduled for 7:30-10:00 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

Snarr Rehired With Pay Raise

President O. W. Snarr was rehired by the state teachers college board yesterday with a raise in salary.

His new salary will be $10,000, a raise of $1,200 from the old $8,800.

New Resident Director Honored by Faculty

Oscar B. Rusness, new MSTC resident director, and his wife were guests of honor at a faculty tea in Ingleside lounge May 2. Also present were former director George Comstock, and his wife.

The tea was attended by 110 people. Decorations were in a May-basket theme.

Hosts for the tea were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Addison Meinecke, Dr. and Mrs. O. W. Snarr, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sorenson.

Millie H. Dahl and Mrs. Bridges poured.

Gam Initiation, Lake Trips to Make Up Week for Sororities

Three pledges will be initiated into Gamma Nu sorority tonight as a finale to the year's rushing. New Gams are Erna Ellingson, Jo Radebaugh, and Delores Strock.

In spring a young girl's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of — her sorority's week-end lake trip. This is it. Beginning about Friday noon the four

Gill, Lau Speak at Meet

Estelle Lau, division of social studies, and Bernard Gill, acting head librarian, spoke at a district library meet in Detroit Lakes last Wednesday.

Sponsored by the Minnesota Library association and the Library division of the state department of education, the district meeting discussion centered around what libraries can do to promote and recommend books so that the readers can better understand the problems and the vital issues of today.

The meeting had two themes: "Books for all Minnesotans" and "Books for our Time."

In considering the latter theme, Mr. Gill spoke on "Democracies"

Levenson Installed

Carolyn Levenson was installed vice-president and Margaret Samuelson magazine chairman of Sigma Alpha Iota last Wednesday night. Mary Rumreich pledged to the group at the same meeting. Miss Levenson and Miss Samuelson were initiated last month.

SAI is a national fraternity for women at NDAC and MSTC.

Problems." Talking on the same theme, Miss Lau presented the controversies and problems as they pertain to China.

The meeting was one of a series of six district library meetings held this spring.

Outdoor Concert Set For Next Tuesday

Ray Votapka will direct the MSTC band in an outdoor concert Thursday, May 22. The concert will be held on the steps of Weld hall.

On the program will be four marches: "Knightsbridge March," "Third of February," "Skyliner," and "Storm King." Other selections include "Prima Donna," "Italian Polka," "Universal Judgement," "Mississippi Rhapsody," and "Allegro Maestoso from Handel's Water Music."

CAP, GOWN DAY SET

Senior Cap and Gown day will be held May 24, with a special convocation program at ten a. m. Program details will be published in the next issue of the MISTiC.

MSTC social sororities will start their annual pilgrimages to the land of sunshine (they hope).

The Bjornson cottage on Round lake is the site for the Beta Chi outing, while Pi Mu Phi will be at Monson's cottage near Detroit Lakes. Gamma Nu journeys to Levenson's on Detroit Lakes and Psi Delta Kappa will be at Lake Melissa at the Bautz cottage.

Committees have been named for two graduation breakfasts June 8. The Pi Mu Phi committees consist of Betty Gullander, Vashiti Piechouski, Carolyn Stahl, Arlene Williams, and Rosella Zimmerman.

The Beta Chi breakfast will be held at the Gopher grill. Committees are invitations — LaDonna Gordon, Ruth Anderson, Donna Martin, Jewel Ann Odegard, and Marlo Powers; entertainment — Donna Thoen, Dolores Briggs, Nancy Lee, and Carolyn Weston; decorations — Pat Jensen, Donna Chartier, Ione Holly, and Marian Torgelson; and Elizabeth Johnson.

Joyce Jones and Margaret Samuelson are chairmen of entertainment and food for a Pi Mu Phi picnic later this month. The Pi's voted to make a donation to the World Student Service association.

AE SPRING DANCE SET

The annual Alpha Epsilon fraternity spring dinner dance will be held Friday, June 1, at the Moorhead country club. Music will be furnished by the Phil Rito trio. Bob Howe is general chairman for the event.

The scheduled AE meeting will not be held tonight in cooperation with the Religious Emphasis week service.

MiSTiC View Involves Boiling Down Opinion, Judgement, Service Value

A letter to the editor last week asked how the official viewpoint of the MiSTiC is determined. Upon reading the letter, we thought the question was asked from the reader's point of view (How does the reader determine the paper's viewpoint?). We answered the question from that standpoint.

Later it was brought to our attention that the question might have been asked from the editor's point of view (How does the editor determine the official point of view?).

That's a good question. The point of when an opinion is or is not made official probably is debated as much as any other.

What, then, determines the MiSTiC's official viewpoint? To a great extent, it is determined by the editor-in-chief, for it is his task to decide what will or will not be printed.

It's not just a matter of the particular whim of the editor, however. His contact with representatives from students, faculty, and administration groups tends to make an editorial a process of boiling down opinion to the point where it's no longer the first excited idea that comes into his mind, but an article based on some study of the facts of the case, the people concerned, and his final judgment of whether printing his opinion on the subject is worthwhile.

The MiSTiC, you see, is read by at least 2000 people. Extreme distortion of a situation can only result in its misrepresentation. The editor is answerable to the whole college, and his opinion must be based on points which can be backed up if necessary.

Take, for example, a situation which occurred several weeks ago. It was brought to our attention that MS students were being robbed of available reading matter, because of the tendency to distribute magazines to the department which was directly concerned with them. Art magazines were usually placed in the art department, and industrial arts magazines went to that department.

Also brought up at that time was the fact that faculty members were allowed to keep books out for an unlimited amount of time, which meant that if a student wanted a book released to a faculty member, he could not get it until the faculty member took it upon himself to return it to the library.

We investigated, because such a situation could result in unfairness to the students of the college, for whom the library actually exists.

What we found out, after an interview with the head of the library, was that the library attempted to get the greatest possible use from its magazines, and therefore put them where they would have the greatest circulation. The library considered 90 per cent circulation in the classroom a justification for depriving the ten percent who wanted the magazines at night.

The library also told us that while faculty members were allowed unlimited time to read books, the situation was far from dangerous. When a student asked for a book which a faculty member had had for a reasonable length of time, the librarian immediately issued a notice that the book was wanted, and asked return at the earliest possible time. General cooperation was excellent, the librarian told us.

We could have, without investigation, come out with a blistering editorial condemning the system which deprived eager students of the chance to use the magazines in the books and the libraries. Readers might have been outraged, as they should be if such a situation existed.

But the situation would have been falsified. And legitimate objections would have come thick and fast.

That's only an example of one of the things the editor must consider in expressing his opinion in the editorial department.

Then, too, the MiSTiC has a publications board, consisting of five students and four faculty members. The group acts as a sounding board for editorial ideas and policies, and advises the editor of its opinion. Its function is purely advisory, but it does give the editor a chance to see other people's views.

The editor's opinion, the facts of the case, ideas of other people and the editor's judgment of what service his editorial can give; all these go into the official viewpoint of the MiSTiC.

On the other hand, columns written for the paper need carry on no investigation other than that which the author wants to make. The subjects treated may not be worthy of a complete editorial, or space may not permit using them.

The editorials express official views. The columns express private opinion. The separation is necessary for good reader relationships.

We hope the question of deciding the official stand of the newspaper has been answered, and that MiSTiC readers need no longer lose sleep over the problem.

Effort Will Realize Values of Program

To the editor:

I am requesting you to publish the following statement concerning changes in faculty personnel and the effect the changes will have on the college.

The decrease in the faculty personnel has been made imperative by the action of the legislature. The legislature appropriated monies for salary increases for the faculties of the state teachers colleges based upon the reduced personnel commensurate approximately with the reduced enrollment in each of the colleges. The number of the faculty determined for this college is 58.

The reduction of the personnel of the faculty was determined by taking into consideration the function of the college, the need for offerings in the various college units, and the individual contributions of faculty members.

The decision reached in each case was the result of an agreement arrived at by the president and the chairman of each division or department concerned.

Thus far it appears only a few faculty members will need to be dropped. As a result of positions becoming vacant through retirement and resignations, transfers in assignment can be made without jeopardizing either the effectiveness of the program or the positions of individuals.

It would be grave error for students to assume that the program of the college will in any way suffer as a result of the change in faculty personnel.

The program of teacher education will not be curtailed in any way to affect the preparation of students for teaching.

In many instances the result will effect favorably the placement of students in teaching positions as a result of providing functional teaching majors and minors.

Furthermore, students will continue to have an opportunity to enrich their education by taking advance electives. Even students who are planning to continue their education in graduate work will be benefited by the change in view of the fact that graduate schools are rapidly requiring a broad background for graduate work.

Students enrolling in graduate schools with departmental specialization will be required to take work in other departments in order to meet the requirements in terms of breadth of training.

The values of the reorganization that has arisen because of legislative action will be realized through the concentrated effort toward the fulfillment of the primary purposes of the college.

O. W. Snarr
President.

F-M Theatre Play Tonight Is Unusual Drama Attempt

To the editor:

I would like to bring to the attention of MS students and faculty what I feel is an unusually excellent production of "The Skin of Our Teeth," a play by Thornton Wilder, being given its final performance tonight in the Moorhead Senior High school at 8:15.

The play itself, the final production of the community theater, is an exciting choice. Those of you who know "Our Town" have an inkling of what goes on when Wilder sets his hand to a play. The play employs a dozen different types of experimental techniques to heighten the hilarity of the comic scenes and to build the dramatic tension that explodes into the play's climax.

The story, in brief, concerns itself with Mr. and Mrs. Antrobus, who are archetypes of the human race, at once Adam and Eve, Noah and wife, and all the other families through history which have fought for life against famine, flood, earthquake, and war. Neither are perfect. Mr. Antrobus suffers (or enjoys?) a brief seduction at the hands of Sabina, who is the symbol of the siren aspects of woman as against the home-maker, Mrs. Antrobus.

The last act shows the Antrobuses just after a war fought against their grown son, Henry (the eternal killer, Cain). They determine to continue their struggle for a better world despite the narrow escapes that lie behind them, and perhaps ahead.

The cast for the play is one of those notable exceptions to the usual fate of college, community or other amateur productions: it is not the usual weak cast, literally hanging for support from, instead of supporting, the few good leads. This play has a strong cast through and through. (Two MS students have parts in the play—Birgit Anderson and Gordon Raaen.)

As co-manager of the play, I have had a chance to watch five weeks of rehearsal and feel it promises to be the best play produced in Fargo-Moorhead since "Dark of the Moon," which for those of you who still relish the latter, is saying quite a lot.

This letter is not a publicity release of any kind; only my own enthusiasm for the play prompted this letter, in the hope that others at MS might also enjoy this unusual experiment in dramatics.

College Must Accept Situation

In the "mailbag department" of today's paper appears a letter to the editor explaining the situation with regard to the eight man cut in the MS faculty.

The letter points out the reason for the cut and the method used to determine who should be cut. The method, we think, is the best one possible under unfortunate circumstances.

However, we can't quite go along with the points which appear later, when the president points out the advantages which might result from the new situation.

WE CAN'T SEE WHERE A CUT IN THE number of teachers could result in advantages to the college. There's a possibility that that could be true if the ill-fated instructors were poor teachers, but we don't think that's true and we don't think the letter intends to infer that.

Giving next year's teachers more work to do isn't likely to result in greater benefit to the students, as far as we can see. Giving them more students doesn't bring about the individual attention which is necessary for good education.

It's true that students may get broader education, of a sort, at least. But fewer faculty members with the same total amount of work to do cannot give that attention we mentioned above. And that attention is one of the things modern educators point out as important to good education. WE CAN GET ALONG

MS students will undoubtedly get along, even with fewer faculty members. But we rather doubt that the cut can be looked on as an improvement in conditions.

Why not accept things as they are, and realize that the college must merely make the best of a situation which can't be helped?

Questionnaire Answers Can Help With Convo

Sometime tomorrow, MS students will get a chance to do something about a subject they've been griping about for a long time—convocations.

The convocation committee has decided to ask student opinion on convocations, including everything from types of programs to frequency of presentation.

To get opinion, the committee is sending out questionnaires to every student, asking questions on all phases of the problem. The idea is to get a true picture of the student attitude toward convos.

USE YOUR OPPORTUNITY

We suggest that students take advantage of the opportunity offered them. Gripes about convo programs and poor attendance have made it quite obvious that there is a problem.

The questionnaire asks such questions as "Do you think convocation should be compulsory?" and "How often would you attend programs of the types listed?" It gives students a real chance to make opinion felt.

We would also suggest that students be honest in their answers. Since the committee wants to know the real opinion, it should have a chance to find it out.

Answer the questionnaire and return it as soon as possible. We certainly need to do something about convo, and this is one way to do it.

Jamestown Avenges Earlier Beating; Takes MS 7-0 in Shutout Friday

Racking up its second victory in as many nights, the MSTC baseball club defeated the Jamestown Jimmies, 7-2, last Tuesday, behind the neat five hit pitching of freshman lefthander Eddie Raymond, on the Dragon field. Making his pitching debut for the Dragons, Raymond was not in serious trouble at any time. He walked only one man and was given excellent support by his mates. Meanwhile, the MS stickers had had their hitting clothes on as they pounded Jamestown's Joe Ford for 8 solid base knocks. One of the blows was a terrific home run blast by Beanie Anderson, his second in two days. Orv Gran showed his prowess at the plate by banging out a pair of

Diamond Men Take Jimmies in Second Victory Over Bison

The Jamestown Jimmies, getting revenge for a 7-2 defeat suffered earlier in the week at the hands of MSTC, trounced the Dragons last Friday night 7-0 at McElroy Park in Jamestown. It was the second loss of the season for MS.

Big Joe Ford, who was jocked by the Dragons last Tuesday, found pitching under the lights to his satisfaction and proceeded to set the Dragons down with one hit. The lone blow came in the seventh inning when DeWayne Teigen, Dragon pitcher, blooped one in to right field for a base knock.

In hurling the shutout, Ford fanned 8 Dragon batters and walked 4. His curve ball was breaking sharp and was troublesome to the MS hitters who had not played under the arcs this year.

JIMMIES HIT SIX TIMES
The Jimmies touched Dewayne Teigen for 6 hits, while the ragged Dragon defense committed five costly errors. Teigen fanned 9 and gave up 5 free passes in going the route. Combining three walks, two Dragon errors, a stolen base, a passed ball and a single by Paul Simons, the Jimmies got off to a 4-0 lead in the first inning.

Jamestown added one run in the fifth. Bill Beck drew a walk, stole second, took third on an error, and scored on a wild pitch. In the sixth, Walt Hatlestad led off with a single,

Valko Gives MS Sixth in Tourney

Eugene Valko placed MSTC sixth out of the seven teams entered in the Bemidji STC invitational track meet last Friday.

Representing MS in the 110 yard dash, 120 yard high hurdles, discus, and high jump, Valko scored 4½ points by placing second in the high hurdles and tying for fifth in the high jump. Winning time for the high hurdles was 16.5; winning height for high jump was 5-10½.

The other track aspirant, Gene Sullivan, entered the discus, shotput, 440 yard dash, and 880 yard run, but failed to place.

base knocks, while Billy Finn, Mac Dahl, Myron Way, Jere Cooper and Dewey Sundby smashed out single blows.

Ford struck out 10 Dragons and walked only 1, but most of the MS hits came with men on base.

Jere Cooper, Dragons third baseman, had a long day at the hot corner. Having nine chances afield, Jere handled 8 of them flawlessly, to spark the Dragon defense.

SCORING
The Dragons scored single runs in the first and second frames to take a 2-0 lead. Bob Simons blasted a homer in the third for the Jimmies to bring them within a single run of the Dragons.

However MS blew the game wide open in the fifth as it blasted out five runs to make the score 7-1.

An error and a double by Erhardt gave the Jimmies their final tally in the seventh inning. The victory gave the Dragons a 4-1 record and put them in second place, only 200 percentage points out of first. Mayville with a 3-0 record occupies the top berth.

The MSTC golfers placed third in the Bemidji invitational meet last Friday afternoon.

NDU won the tournament with a 337 total, Bemidji placed second with 344, MS followed with a 345, and NDAC finished with 350.

Kenny Bush from Bemidji was medalist with a 79. Dick Eide, NDU and Charley Mahan, MS, were tied at 80.

The invitational was in doubt until the last putt was sunk. MS was trailing Bemidji by one stroke after the first foursome's score was tallied. Then Carl Hedstrom put the Dragons ahead by three strokes after scoring a 38 on the last nine.

Bemidji and MS were tied at the end of the third foursome's scoring. Then NDU's number four man Dick Eide fired an 80 to give the U the lead and the tournament.

NDAC defeated the MS golf team 8-4 last Wednesday afternoon at the Fargo country club.

MS' no. 2 man, Carl Hedstrom, lost his first match in two years. It was also the first time he lost a point to any college opponent.

Charley Mahan was low with an 83. AC's Bill Swanson was two strokes behind at 85.

MS scored its points as follows: Mahan, two, big Dan Larsen, one, Mary Skaar and Hedstrom, one-half point apiece.

The MSTC baseball team continued their drive for the top spot in the Steve Gorman league by downing the NDAC Bison 6-4, on the Dragon field May 7.

The Dragons had to overcome a 4-0 lead the Bison racked up in the first inning on three singles and an error. Larry Krabbenhoft was the victim of the rough first inning, but after that the tall righthander settled down and pitched excellent ball the rest of the game while his team mates were pecking away at Doug Boling and Thor Hertsgard for six runs. He set the Bison down with 4 hits and fanned 11 batters.

The margin of the victory came in the fifth inning. With the score deadlocked at 4-4, Beanie Anderson blasted a home run over the left center field fence scoring Orv Gran ahead of him.

Not exactly knocking the cover off the ball themselves, the Dragons garnered only 4 hits off the Bison pitching. However, their hits came at opportune times. Besides Anderson's four base blow with a runner on base, Larry Krabbenhoft also blasted a round tripper in the second frame with one man on. Singles by Orv Gran and Kenny Johnson were the only other Dragon blows.

The win gave the Dragons a 3-1 record in the Gorman loop, while the Bison were left with a 1-3 record.

The MSTC golfers placed third in the Bemidji invitational meet last Friday afternoon.

NDU won the tournament with a 337 total, Bemidji placed second with 344, MS followed with a 345, and NDAC finished with 350.

Kenny Bush from Bemidji was medalist with a 79. Dick Eide, NDU and Charley Mahan, MS, were tied at 80.

The invitational was in doubt until the last putt was sunk. MS was trailing Bemidji by one stroke after the first foursome's score was tallied. Then Carl Hedstrom put the Dragons ahead by three strokes after scoring a 38 on the last nine.

Bemidji and MS were tied at the end of the third foursome's scoring. Then NDU's number four man Dick Eide fired an 80 to give the U the lead and the tournament.

NDAC defeated the MS golf team 8-4 last Wednesday afternoon at the Fargo country club.

MS' no. 2 man, Carl Hedstrom, lost his first match in two years. It was also the first time he lost a point to any college opponent.

Charley Mahan was low with an 83. AC's Bill Swanson was two strokes behind at 85.

MS scored its points as follows: Mahan, two, big Dan Larsen, one, Mary Skaar and Hedstrom, one-half point apiece.

Alumni Write

Since I will be married to Daniel Larsen, now a student at MSTC, on June 9, I will be unable to attend the alum banquet you are planning for June 8," was a comment Ruth Harstick '49, returned with her MSTC dues payment.

"Since I graduated from the normal school in 1902 and came to (Seattle, Wash.,) in 1907, I have lost all contact with the school and all of the students. However, I was very happy over the honor you gave my brother-in-law, C. A. Ballard," wrote Ethel Beatrice Bell.

George F. Barnes '04, who attended MSTC for one year, is now vice president of Rand, McNally and company, publishers. He lives at 825 Forest ave., Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. Richard M. Smith (Patricia Corcoran '41) is now living at Campbell, from where she describes her occupation as a housewife. The Smiths have two children, Kevin, 3, and Marcia, 1 1/2.

Karl Parsons, former MSTC science department instructor, is now teaching physics at Michigan State college in Ypsilanti, Mich., according to Anna Hood, '34 a member of the school's art department staff.

Miss Clara Gronlund is now assistant in the mathematics department in the administration building of the Seattle, Wash., public schools. She has been in Seattle for nine years. She reports "Any accomplishment that this little account represents may be traced to 'top' training at MSTC!"

Mrs. Ansgar L. Okmen (Isabelle Casey '12, is completing her 35th year of teaching this year. She is now teaching at Balaton.

Virginia Hafdahl '49, is now a file clerk in an insurance office in Seattle, Wash., where her address is 917 1/2 17th Ave., Seattle 22, Wash.

Norma Hellerud '50, now teaching at Springfield, wrote, "I enjoy every MiSTiC that I receive."

Edgar E. Wright '19, 609 Second Ave. S., Moorhead, is proprietor of the Wright funeral home and a member of the Moorhead board of education. He is a former Father Owl.

John Conzemius '50, president of the Student Commission last year, is now teaching in his hometown of Breckenridge.

Miss Dorothy Fetvedt, a BE graduate in 1932, has completed the requirements for the master's degree in Latin at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. After teaching for some time in Michigan she became head of the Latin department in public schools at Aberdeen, Wash. Recently, she was elected president of the Aberdeen unit of the Washington Education association.

Humanities Contest Held

By DUANE SCRIBNER

Students in humanities 210 classes took tests in their four discussions groups last Friday.

One of the questions asked whether a certain reading was "social and documentary reporting" or "militant social literature, leftist propaganda."

At last report, the "correct" answer in two of the groups was the first one, while the answer in one other group was the second.

I'm eagerly waiting the outcome in the other group. Wonder if there will be a 3-1 majority opinion on the part of the instructors, or if the contest will result in a tie?

ABOUT THAT DISCUSSION

The discussion on philosophy, science and religion in Ballard lounge last week was one of the best things to happen on the MS campus in a long time.

It would be nice if some group would assure MS of more programs of that type by taking it upon itself to bring discussions here.

BAND CONCERTS AND SUCH

It seems that MS isn't the only place where they have trouble getting crowds at concerts, convocations, etc.

The Associated Collegiate press feature service reports this editorial comment in the Muhlenberg (Pa.) Weekly:

"Thirty musicians on the bandstand and approximately thirty students in the audience? Surely, surely, we can do better than that."

ACP comment was "Well, we could have fifty musicians on the bandstand."

POSSIBLE REMEDY?

Convocation committee please take notice.

NORTHERN LIGHTS

Well, it still looks like all baseball as the tracks team doesn't seem to function.

Coaches Bierhaus and Smith have a couple of toughies on their hands this week.

If they can get through these, the silver cup should be theirs - (but of course the Cobbers are always a stumbling block).
